PRICE THREE CENTS

Dr. Norwood will Clean-Up Week is Set for May 8-13

Speak at Meeting Next Thursday

Everyone Invited to Last Meeting of Junior C. C.

The Junior Section of the Women's Community Club will entertain the public at their final meeting of the season to be held on Thursday evening, May 11th, at the Y. M. C. A.

They have succeeded in securing for that evening the Rev. Robert Norwood, of St. Paul's Church, Overbrook, whose interesting and enlightening lectures have made him famous as a speaker in all parts of the country.

The meeting will be open to all; there will be no admission fee, and no one should miss this opportunity to hear such a celebrated speaker. Keep the date in mind, and make every effort to be present at the Community Rooms, Y. M. C. A., on Thursday evening, May 11th, as the Juniors are anxious to afford Dr. Norwood the courtesy of an audience befitting a speaker of his popularity.

JUNIORS TO REPEAT MUSICAL COMEDY.

On Friday and Saturday, April 7 and 8, in the Narberth High School Auditorium, was given one of the clearest musical comedies seen on the legitimate stage for years. And not only the play was good, the performance was excellently produced.

Ever since then has come request upon request to the Junior Community Club to repeat "Shame on Bunty," and finally they have decided to do it. May the 20th is the date set for it, and it will be given again in the School Auditorium. The admission will be the same as before, 75 cents and $1.00, the latter being the price for reserved seats.

Not for many months will Narberth forget the singing and dancing of Evelyn Patten and Carroll Downes and Augusta Witherow or the comedy of Patsy Martin and Bob Fretz, not to speak of the peals of laughter brought forth by Frank Winne. If you did not see it before, you cannot afford to miss it this time.

Opportunity seldom knocks twice. When it does, don't let it slip away.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES.

The minstrel show given by the Post last Friday evening in Elm Hall was a wonderful success. The hall was crowded to the doors and all the seats were occupied before the show started.

On account of the change of printers made at the last minute, several errors were made in the program. The Program Committee wishes to apologize for the error in printing the name of John T. Odell on a full page complimentary add.

The name of Ray Weiss was also erroneously omitted in the expression of gratification to the members of the orchestra.

We also wish to express our sincere gratification to the merchants and others who contracted for advertising space in the program. The amount of monetary return to the advertisers in programs is very small, so we hope that our fellow citizens will patronize the home merchants.

PAST NATIONAL COMMANDER D'OLIER ADDRESSES POST.

About sixty members of the Post had a real treat at the regular monthly meeting last Monday evening, when they heard Past National Commander Franklin D'Olier.

Mr. D'Olier gave some very interesting facts in reference to the future possibilities of the Legion and also related some of his experiences in connection with his office while National Commander. Mr. D'Olier was elected an honorary member.

Another treat is in store for the members of the Post to hear a man considered among the best on the subject of salesmanship, at the monthly meeting in May.

This will also be Father's Night, so bring your father or somebody else's father. Anyhow, bring a father.

Do not forget that Sunday, May 14, is Mother's Day. Wear a white carnation and take your mother to church with you.

Spick-and-Span Narberth is the Goal Sought

The Narberth Civic Association, in cooperation with the Highway Commissioner, has designated the week of May 8-13 as Narberth's big annual Clean Up Week.

Wednesday, May 10th, will be Clean Up Day, on which date all refuse will be collected from the homes. Complete details will be published in Our Town. Some general suggestions are:

Begin on the inside.

Clear out the attic. You will find things you had forgotten. Throw them out.

Don't hoard rubbish.

Sweep, dust and scrub.

Soap and water properly applied to wood work are intensely discouraging to disease germs.

Open your doors and windows and give the fresh air and sunlight a chance to do their job.

Clear out the rugs, bottles and old papers.

Clear out the cellar, wash the cellar walls and white wash with lime.

Look over the roof gutters, flower pots, cisterns, wells, rain barrels and drains for places in which water may stand. Standing water breeds mosquitoes.

If you have no stand for the garbage can, make one that will clear it several inches from the ground. See that the garbage can doesn't leak and that it has a tight fitting lid.

Make wells and cisterns safe by proper protection against surface drainage, dust and insects.

Stop up the rat holes and set rat traps.

Rake the lawn; as a matter of fire protection it is better to burn small rubbish in stoves.

Stables and stable yards should be cleaned and manure hauled away.

The ground upon which manure heaps, tested should be sprinkled with a solution of borax, 1 lb. to 3 gallons of water or with kerosene oil.

Privies should be inspected to see that they are fly tight.

Doors and windows should be screened.

All buildings in which crowds congregate should be included in the clean up.

Refuse should be hauled to a dump and either burned or buried.

No dump should be located on a water shed.

The Clean Up Week is the initial step of the Fly Campaign.

BOY SCOUT MINSTRELS.

The Narberth Boy Scouts are now rehearsing for their 4th Annual Minstrel Show and Play, to be given at Elm Hall on Friday evening, May 19. This show promises to surpass all their previous ones, and if you want to spend a pleasant evening with the boys, don't fail to attend.

The Scouts will be around next week to sell you tickets for the show, and as the proceeds are to go for their instructions at camp this summer, we hope everybody will come to the front. We will show you what the boys can do. This is the fourth year they are appearing before the footlights, and you will see a real show.

The costumes will be even more gorgeous than the previous years, and you know we have to go some to beat that.

WEDDING.

Lourenson—Pierce.

On Saturday afternoon, April 15th, Miss Mildred G. Pierce, of Narberth, became the bride of Mr. Theodore H. Lourenson, of Germantown, Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, 44 Montgomery avenue, Narberth, by the Rev. Dr. Arthur S. Walls, in the presence of relatives and friends, and was followed by a reception. After a honeymoon tour, Mr. and Mrs. Lourenson will reside in Philadelphia.

THE ELIZA CATHOART HOME.

Do you know anything about it? It is supported by the Presbyterians of this district and gives the aged and infirm care at a most reasonable cost.

Come to Elm Hall the evening of May 16th, hear a fine concert and help this most worthy cause. The Woman's Auxiliary and Westminster Circle of the Narberth Presbyterian Church are putting this over, so it's sure to be good. Don't miss it.

Keep May 16th for this concert.

Narberth Choral is Planning Season's Last Concert

It Will be Given in School Auditorium on May 12

Friday night, May 12, is the date set for the next and last concert of the regular series given by the Narberth Choral Society. Arrangements were completed this week whereby the program will include the "Rose Maiden," by Cowen, preceded by a series of short numbers by an orchestra of twenty pieces.

"The Rose Maiden" was given by the Choral Society last year and was so successful that many requests have been received to repeat the number at one of the concerts in the present series.

Professor Nee has spent much time in drilling the chorus for this number so that its presentation on May 12 will undoubtedly excel anything that the Chorus has thus far done.

As an added attraction, a balanced orchestra of twenty pieces will support the Chorus and will give independently a short program of carefully chosen numbers.

The concert will be given in the auditorium of the High School building. Tickets will be on sale later to those not holding entrance cards to the series.

DOG SHOW.

More than 200 cups and other silver trophies have been given for the winning dogs at the Wynnewood Dog and Pony Show on May 17th, at the Wynnewood estate of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Clothier, for the benefit of the Welfare Federation.

The Dog Show feature of the show will be a notable one. It is a contest sanctioned by the American Kennel Club, and there are promises of many hundred entries. Furthermore, a large number of the best-known prize winning dogs in the East will be among the contestants. The Committee in charge includes Mrs. E. Florens Rivinus, Chairman, Mrs. George E. Bartol, Miss Eugenia K. Cassatt, Mrs. Amory Hare Cook, Mrs. R. Hare Davis, Miss Eleanor V. Dougherty, Mrs. George H. Earle, 3rd, Mrs. J. K. Mitchell Harrison, Mrs. Hallowell V. Morgan, Mrs. E. B. Morris, Jr., Mrs. T. Williams Roberts, Mrs. Joseph P. Sims, Jr., Mrs. Joseph Wood, Jr.

Those eligible to the Auxiliary are mothers, wives, daughters and sisters of men who were in either military or naval service. There is a place of welcome for you in our unit.

If, by any chance, you are not enthusiastic about doing this little thing at 2 o'clock A. M., we make the alternative suggestion that you push the hands forward one hour before going to bed tonight. Better not forget this, or you'll be late to church tomorrow morning.

INTERESTING SPEAKER.

The Narberth Civic Association has just been able to secure as its speaker at the annual meeting, Mr. Alfred M. Collins, of Bryn Mawr.

Mr. Collins is known all over the country as a great traveler and big game hunter. He is the President of the Main Line Citizens' Association, a director of the Suburban Association, and is one of the leading figures in Main Line activities.

A talk by Mr. Collins, which will no doubt be illustrated, is something no Narberth resident can afford to miss. The meeting has been set for Thursday evening, May 11th, in the Y. M. C. A. Building. Complete details will be published in next week's issue of Our Town, and it is expected that this will be by far the greatest meeting the Civic Association has ever held.

Dr. Lichtenberger was formerly a lecturer for the University Extension. There will be music and the usual social hour.

Between now and May 20th, when the Main Line League schedule opens, Narberth's ball players, known and unknown, will have chances to show their ability for Manager Crowell's Pennant Winners.

Those who remember when "Pinky" Simpson was the star twirler for Penn and also held the record for strike outs will be glad to know that Bert still follows the game, and will bring out the Bell Telephone Company's team on Saturday afternoon to give the Narberth boys a chance to get some real practice.

Bert will not feel strange on the diamond in Narberth, as he and his brothers, Bill and Harry, have played many a game here.

New candidates are invited to come up to Montgomery avenue and Cherry Lane at 3 o'clock or report to Davis' store at 245 and bring their shoes and a glove.

Other practice games will follow, but Crowell will want to find out as soon as possible who's who?

TRY OUTS—MONTGOMERY AND CHERRY LANE, SATURDAY AFTERNOON AT 3.

Time of closing of foreign mails at the Philadelphia Post Office is always posted in the lobby of the Narberth office. A new schedule is provided weekly.

Milk Protection is Passed in Special Council Meeting

Playground Bill is also Passed First Reading

In an adjourned meeting of Borough Council held in Elm Hall on Wednesday evening of this week, the plan for Narberth to enter with the townships of Lower Merion and Haverford in the matter of milk protection was unanimously passed.

The plan calls for the services of a milk inspector, who will have as his duties the inspection of all milk distributing centers in the district, the inspection at its source of all raw milk, and the inspection at the plant of all pasteurized milk.

The Inspector employed for this work is Dr. George Grim, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary School. Dr. Grim was present at the meeting of Council. He will be provided with an automobile, in order better to follow out the work at the different points.

A number of members of the Narberth Women's Community Club were present at the meeting. The Club has taken a great deal of interest in this subject, and at the regular meeting last week passed a resolution favoring the plan, which was read in Council meeting.

Representatives of the Narberth Board of Health were also on hand to explain any matters which were not cleared up in a letter which Dr. Faries had sent to the Committee on Police and Health. The members of the Board of Health present were: Messrs. Walter Y. Shaw, Tristian B. du Marais, and James M. Follin.

In the course of the discussion questions were asked the new milk inspector by Mr. Redifer and by Mrs. A. B. Ross, President elect of the Community Club. The principal point cleared up by this interrogation was that of the nature of the inspection. Dr. Grim stated that all raw milk will be inspected at its source, regardless of where that source may be, but that pasteurized milk would receive supervision at the point where the pasteurizing is done. All milk in the district will be sold under license, which will apply to dairies, stores, etc., alike. Any place where milk is sold will be regularly inspected by a physician. All the work of milk supervision will therefore be taken from the hands of the local Boards of Health, and placed under the general plan.

The report of the Committee as adopted was referred to the Finance Committee with reference to the working out of the method of raising the necessary funds, which will amount to about $600.00 for the remainder of this year. The cost in future, based on proportionate population, will be 10.8% of the total expense, or about $1,000.00 a year.

Playground Ordinance.

An ordinance was introduced by Mr. Redifer, Chairman of the Finance Committee, dealing with the issuance of the bonds for the purchase and improvement of the plot of ground to be used as the Outdoor Recreation Center.

After a great deal of delay, the County Courts have finally sent to the Borough the certification of the special election held in February. This document, a decree of the Court of Quarter Sessions, was read to Council. It attested the fact that an election had been held, that 429 ballots were cast in favor of the Playground Loan, and $80 against it, and that the Borough was permitted to go ahead with the necessary work.

The ordinance introduced, which was passed on first reading, calls for the issuance of $30,000 worth of bonds for the purchase and improvement of the ground. Its purpose is to carry out the provisions of the ordinance of last December which authorized the election.

It is expected that this bill will come up for second and third reading at the regular May meeting of Council. Upon the passage of the ordinance, a period of thirty days must elapse, in which time bids are called for, and preparations made for the issuance of the bonds. It is feared that, because of the delay in the matter, the Playground will not be in shape for use at all this summer. It is certain, however, that once the formalities are out of the way, actual work on the project will be rushed, so that the improvement will be available for the use of the citizens at the earliest possible moment.

Our plan to get Our Town into the hands of its readers on Friday night of this week "flirted," as very few responded to our request for early copy. Please send copy on Tuesday of each week.

HERE'S A THOUGHT.

Last week, one of our readers, in the course of a conversation, remarked to the Editor that there were a great many back seats in touring cars about Narberth which are not used to advantage.

There is a great deal in that. How often we see a big five or seven passenger car, with the driver, and maybe one other passenger up front, and the remainder of the car vacant. At the same time, there are hundreds of Narberth people, friends and neighbors of car owners, who would appreciate the opportunity of an occasional spin.

But it is not of the general pedestrian that we would speak. Just stop to think, you car owner, of the dozens of old folks about town, mothers and fathers of your acquaintances, or perhaps utter strangers. But imagine the pleasure that could be given them if, when you are going on a short trip, or an afternoon spin, you would include as your guest someone to whom such an opportunity would mean a great deal.

There are many Narberth folks who are doing that very thing; there are drivers who make it their habit never to let such an opportunity go by, but there are scores of others who, perhaps, have never thought of it.

Little things like this add much to the brighter side of life—for all of us. Let's hope there will be more of this spirit in Narberth.

Communications

To the Editor of Our Town:

Coming up Montgomery Pike about 8 P. M. yesterday, the idea came to me when passing a flourishing store section that if I stopped and bought my evening paper there I would save myself the usual trip down to Mr. Davis.

After bringing my mud covered Lizzie to a stop in front of a store whose show window contained an elaborate display of the very latest magazines, I stepped within, and finding the clerks absent inquired of a young gentleman on the outside as to which of these stores sold the evening papers, and I was shocked when told that "he guessed I would have to go up to Narberth to get anything like that." I went.

D. P. COOK.

A PERTINENT ANSWER.

To the Editor of Our Town:

The inquisitorial interrogations arrogantly demanded by Collum Righter regarding the writer's attitude on various subjects, especially what he has ever done to endear himself to humanity, calls for refutation or explanation. The writer humbly acknowledges that while occupying this terrestrial sphere he never has accomplished anything worthy of commendation, except work, when he has it—not even attempting poetical effusions—and sorrowfully acquiesces that he has been a slacker and a shirker by inclination and procrastination. But he sees the light on the police question and cheerfully admits his mistaken attitude. But how in the world did C. R. catch on to the writer's pretension? Is he endowed with supernatural or occult divination, or is he gifted with second sight? He is surely on to my surreptitious and clandestine peregrinations in the "wee small hours" of the morning. For the last week the writer on his solitary nocturnal expeditions repeatedly has encountered a stalwart officer faithfully patrolling his beat in various sections of the borough, which is more than can be said of his predecessor. Impressed and overawed with the Sandowesque appearance of the policeman, the writer now painfully realizes that his "rooster" is cooked and hereafter abjures all poker, craps, pinchle and other innocent diversions, and will consequently conform to the law and try to reform to the best of his ability.

One thing he hopes Council will do. Will they instruct the officers to keep on the sidewalks at Grayling and Price avenues? Being new to the town, they probably are not aware of the pitfalls and gulches existing on Price avenue and unwittingly and inadvertently might be precipitated in one of the many holes and unfortunately break a leg, for which the borough would undoubtedly be responsible, as no red lights are displayed to warn the ordinary pedestrian.

Realizing that all the young men are regularly employed and "every one works but my old man," he's got a job, the police agitation is a closed incident as far as the writer is concerned, and he and the other taxpayers will have to dig down in their pockets for the wherewithal to meet the town's increased liabilities.

Narberth unquestionably lends all the boroughs in the country in the employment situation. Every one is working, as C. R. asseverates.

C. R.'s quotation of that magnificent and sublime ode to "The Rooster" is grandiloquently to the point. As we are at present not familiar with the works of our great poets, we could humbly inquire whether it was composed by Longfellow, Whittier, Emerson, Whitman, or probably it was taken from old Ben Franklin's Almanac? The composer must have made a mistake—your "heart" the rooster crow, not "see." Talk about birds, my neighbor has one that has it all over the rooster. His name is "Bill the Turk." He struts with a majestic aid like C. R. does, parading on the Rialto; his red wattles remind one of the "Babble's" color when he hears his victims criticize his alleged witlessness; his nasal appendage, whatever that is, is no longer than an insignificant columnist's would naturally acquire by poking his nose in other people's business; his purple head does certainly resemble C. R.'s face when his ebullitions of sarcasm are questioned by any defenseless contributor to Our Town. And his gobble! Oh, how he can gobble. It's almost as belligerent as C. R.'s gobble when his acrimonious diatribe is flamboyantly hampered by some of his victims.

Suggestion. Our Town has made a change in its makeup. All up-to-date and enterprising newspapers invariably alter the wording of their regular department heads. Why not change the name "The Tower of Babble by Collum Righter" to "Still the Gobbler: By Kill the Turk?" It would be so appropriate and synonymous. As the "immortal William" so aptly puts it, "Lay on, MacDuff, and deal him who he who rises, 'Hold, enough.'"

FRANKLIN CANCELL.

MESSAGE DELIVERED AT NARBERTH SCHOOLS CONCERNING POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK.

By Postmaster Edward S. Haws.

The following message was delivered on Friday morning to the assembled pupils in the High School Auditorium:

You are all invited to "listen in" to "the travels of a letter."

The letter is dropped in a letter box, but before dropping it you should look at it and see if it has been properly addressed, stamped (the stamp always in the upper right hand corner) and sealed. Letters are often put in the mails without a stamp and frequently without being addressed or sealed. A last look before dropping the letter will prevent any of these omissions.

The letter is collected by the carrier, turned in at the Post Office, where it is date-stamped and the stamp cancelled, eased to the city or State to which it is addressed and is tied out with other letters on the first outgoing dispatch.

If a quantity of letters is mailed at one time they should all be faced one way and tied in a package or packages. As the first thing the clerks must do is to face the letters all one way before they put them into the cancelling machine. Being faced one way and tied in packages is a real help and time saver. Regular sized envelopes should be used. Unusual sizes, especially the real small and quite narrow ones, will not go through the cancelling machine and must all be done by hand, which is slow work. These are also hard to tie into bundles, the bundles frequently break or slip loose and the letters get all scattered through the mail pouch.

When a letter is mailed without a stamp we send a notice to the addressee to send postage so we can forward the letter. This takes time and, of course, delays the letter. If the sender's name and address would appear on the letter, in the upper left hand corner we would return the letter for postage. The wise person will always put his address on every piece of mail he sends out (in the upper left hand corner). If this were done it would almost entirely eliminate the necessity for sending 10,000, 200 pieces of mail to the Division of Dead Letters every year.

Every letter must be read from five to ten times by different clerks who handle it, so you see how important it is that the letter be plainly addressed. Pen and ink is much better than a lead pencil, as the lead gets rubbed and becomes illegible. Mail distributors have a kindly feeling for everybody who writes a legible hand.

If the letter is going to New York, Boston or some other city the R. P. O. Clerk on the train will handle it. These clerks separate the letters for the various sections or sub-stations of the cities.

If the letter is properly prepared for mailing and posted (sometimes they are not) and carried around in someone's pocket, it will usually be handled with care and dispatched by postal employees.

As much care should be given the preparation of mail as is expected of those who handle it in transit.

When a letter arrives at its destination a proper receptacle should be provided there to receive it.

There is no definite state of perfection that can be attained in the postal business or in any other institution, but we can all try to improve.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Postmaster General Work will broadcast a message to the American public in connection with Postal Improvement Week by radiograph from the Post Office Department in Washington this evening, April 28, at 7:15 o'clock on 1460 meters call letters W-A-N.

TENNIS SEASON BEGINS MAY 6.

If Jupe Phylus can be persuaded to continue his conduct of the past week and keep the skies free of rain clouds for another week, the courts of the Narberth Tennis Association will surely be open for business by Saturday, May 6. This should be very acceptable news to all the oldtimers who will no doubt begin forthwith to get out their oil cans and oil up their joints.

The question has been raised frequently by new residents of our town as to how one can become a member of the Tennis Association. If such residents are unacquainted with active members, through whom application for membership may be filed, they can apply directly to the Secretary of the Association, William J. Bailey, 228 Essex avenue, phone Narberth 311.

An attractive dance program has been arranged by Jess Harris, the enterprising chairman of the Entertainment Committee, for Friday evening, May 5. A real jazz orchestra will furnish music that will please the most discriminating modern grandmother. Tickets may be obtained from any club member or from Mr. Harris, 135 Merion avenue, phone Narberth 667 W.

PUPILS' RECITAL.

In connection with Music Week, to be celebrated in Philadelphia and vicinity from April 30 to May 6, some of the pupils of Miss Fanny H. Loos, pianiste, and Miss Anne Jackson, violiniste, will give a recital May 3rd, 8 P. M., at 417 Haverford avenue. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

During the past week we overheard more or less esteemed townsman bemoaning the fact that it was so hard to meet expenses nowadays. Personally we never take the trouble to meet them. They wait for us.

We wish to correct an erroneous impression. Although we admit that we do sit in the five-forty with our eyes shut, that is no significance that we are asleep. The fact is, we hate like a possessed to see women standing.

It would remove quite a weight from the mind of the Column if some one should broadcast a list of the articles included in that miscellaneous Bridal Shower reported in last week's issue. After many years of harnessed life, during which we have become thoroughly middle wise, we are always more or less worried at hearing of some other poor lackless wight who will soon have a matrimonial snaffle bit in his mouth.

There may have been one of these included in the shower for all we know, if such was the case we felicitate Mrs. J. Beebe for her rare judgment in failing to mention it.

That home-brew surreptitiously dispensed by a benevolent North Sider ought to be called "frog." The reason for this is obvious after a careful sampling. It has plenty of hops, but no kick.

Speaking of the North Side, we have no sympathy whatever for the resident who comes home intoxicated every night. Our claim is that anyone who can do so does not merit sympathy, but congratulations instead.

The recent banquet of the Men's Association was a tremendous success in every way except in the matter of the coffee. But after all, perhaps we should not raise adverse criticism. Some day we may be old and weak ourselves.

Soapstone Milk will no doubt be satisfactory if they continue to use due diligence in keeping the Soap out of it. Soap is a purifying agent of the first water, but it has no place in milk.

While perhaps we take our life in our own hands in this instance, yet in view of Hon. Bill Crowell's rightly flamed sports proclivities we feel the urge to challenge him to a Coconut Custard Pie eating contest at any time he may see fit to designate. It is only fair, however, to advise him that we hold the 1921 Endurance Record for Raisin Pie and Suetcrash, and that we wield a mighty mean fork.

Far be it from the Column to criticize the technique of the dental profession in Narberth, but we unquestionably would feel mentally and nervously easier if Esteemed Doc, Hartley would stop humming to himself, "The Yanks Are Coming," every time we get nicely settled in his chair.

In answer to the pertinent query which Hon. Bob Realtor Nash persists in placing at the top of his advertisements, we hereby notify him that our answer is NO! We intend staying in Narberth all summer. Somebody has to write the Column.

Esteemed Bergner is entirely right. The only way to determine the quality of varnish is to test it. We tested some of it not so long ago with a pair of white flannel trousers. And the varnish won out. The recollection of the price of those trousers will remain with us, however, long after the quality of that dog-gone varnish is forgotten.

Certain publicity in last week's issue made bold to state that "hundreds of families in this community have been converted to Rainey-Wood Coke." This may be all very well, but it will have to be stopped. If Exalted Dunne is going to continue this wholesale business of thus turning the flesh and blood of Narberth into furnace fuel, we are going to move out. 'Taint safe to stay.

Anent the sparkling talent advertised to participate in St. Margaret's Minstrel Monstrosity, the Column feels that in choosing to impersonate and supercede Eddie Cantor, Hon. Rudolph has picked the wrong Eddie. Had he selected Eddie Poy as his prototype it would have been more to the point. The Sebastian Six appearing with him would have left nothing to be desired.

It amuses us the way some of the youthful (and other) female contingent in this community caluminate their countenances in an effort to appear otherwise than natural. There are other blemishes than facial ones, and try as they will to cover the latter they cannot hide the former. And they cannot fool us. We know the difference between patrician pallor and carbonate of zinc.

A Gauge of Progress

A community is known by its public utilities. Good lights, comfortable homes, abundant power, good telephone and transportation facilities tell a stranger more about us than can the spoken word. To weaken the public utilities is to throw out of gear the whole life of the community. It would seem to be the part of wisdom, then, to encourage the utilities, so that they can aid to the utmost in civic advancement.

RICKLIN HAS IT

If we were to tell you that hundreds of families in this community have been converted to "Rainey-Wood" Coke, you would probably be surprised. Yet this is an actual fact. They have been getting heat satisfaction all last winter for $8.00 per ton, or $8.50 if carried in.

"Rainey-Wood" Coke is prepared in one of the latest and most modern coke oven plants in the country. It makes a cheerful fire, responds quickly to changes in draft and holds the fire perfectly over night.

NO CLINKERS—NO ASHES TO SIFT COMES UP QUICKLY IN THE MORNING

Come in at your convenience and talk this over. See a sample of the Coke displayed in our office. We carry a large supply and are prepared to make immediate deliveries.

Soapstone Farms AA Milk

I wish to thank my many patrons for their endorsement of Soapstone Dairy AA Milk. The volume of business I am now doing with this high grade AA Milk and the commendations I have received, proves beyond doubt that the change I made, to give you the finest AA Milk the market affords, has been fully appreciated.

Soapstone Dairy produces the finest Ayrshire milk in this part of the country, and their modern and sanitary method of taking care of this High Grade product gives it prestige over all others. It is delivered to me by truck (only fifteen minutes from Soapstone Dairy), in clean, sanitary cans, not in tank wagons, re-cooled in my plant, bottled under my personal supervision and served to you when it is only a very few hours old, making it THE FRESHEST MILK POSSIBLE FOR YOU TO OBTAIN. If you are one of the very few who have not ordered this AA Grade of Milk, instruct our driver or phone to me to begin serving you at once. A trial will convince you of its merits.

I have had copies made of the Certificate given this Dairy by the United States Department of Agriculture, and will be glad to furnish you one on request.

A LIGHTNING FLASH

Estimate of Horsepower in Stroke That Shivered Giant Oak

At more or less regular times during the summer, Narberth folks are startled, during an electric storm, when a bolt strikes uncomfortably close. The following article, by B. A. Dickson, in the "New York Times," should interest readers of Our Town.

For days and days the region had had high barometric pressure. The heat was intense. Not a leaf stirred. Then, all in a few hours, clouds gathered, thick and dark, and a storm rolled up, the valley from the southwest, which, for intensity of fury had not been matched for years.

Somewhere in that solid mass of storm clouds there is one (at least one; there may be a great many) composed of myriads of dancing, bobbing, whirling ice crystals, every crystal electrically formed. All carrying as great electrical charges as they can hold, they take shapes that make it easiest for equalization of electric tension to be brought about by discharges and exchanges among themselves. Each crystal has legions of points, each point providing an easy path for an equalization.

The cloud is drifting over a forest drenched by preceding rain clouds. The electrical exchanges go on, combinations of crystals occur, groups form, the charge is concentrated more and more, till the ice crystal cloud is one great charged condenser, ready, at the slightest lessening of the atmospheric tension, to discharge its entire store to earth.

On over the forest drifts the cloud. Oaks with their rounded tops and twigs tipped with leaves offer no easy paths; but there, in a little clearing, standing no higher than its fellows, is a gaunt, leafless red oak, dead long since, seasoned as it has stood. Its heart wood is still solid. Signs of decay do not penetrate more than a few inches from the surface. Ninety-six feet it holds its topmost bare twig above the earth, but it is not the height that attracts. It is that point of the dead twig, aimed directly at the passing cloud, and it is enough.

R-r-r-r-r! Bang! and the thunder rolls its echoes up and down the valley. Four thousand square inches of solid seasoned red oak rent, splintered and scattered in every direction. Pieces as large as scallings are thrown seventy feet away from the tree.

Now it takes a stress of 1,100 foot-pounds to shear one square inch of seasoned red oak, when the force is applied parallel to the grain of the wood. Four thousand square inches sheared in the twentieth part of a second; 4,400,000 foot-pounds applied for that small fraction of time. One hundred and sixty thousand horsepower is the amount of energy hurled against that unfortunate tree. One hundred and nineteen thousand three hundred and sixty kilowatts; if it took a million volts to overcome the resistance, the current would have a strength of 119 amperes. A blackberry bush four feet away from the base of the tree was withered, sheveled, dried up.

Now this energy may have been expended directly, by the ether waves, disturbed by what we know as electricity. Water may have penetrated into cracks and erannies of the wood, and been instantaneously converted into steam by the heat of the passage of the current. Steam occupies at least 750 times as much space as the water that makes it.

The sudden change, therefore, from liquid to vapor, in such confined spaces as the cracks and erannies to which the water had penetrated, would cause a commotion equal to a boiler explosion. The energy of the lightning may have manifested itself in this manner, or again the water in the erannies may have been instantaneously decomposed into its elements, hydrogen and oxygen, by the passage of the electric current through it. These gases would require even more space than the steam and would, if anything, have made an even more violent explosion.

However the energy was expended, the result was that the tree was rent, and what is left of it is visible evidence that that cloud, as it traveled with the storm, bearing along its myriads of ice-crystals, and these crystals, by their friction with the air, accumulated a potential energy of 4,400,000 foot-pounds, capable of being expended at the rate of 160,000 horsepower.

SAD ASSOCIATIONS

"I can't play billiards in the winter-time at all."
"Why not?"
"Every time I get to knocking those three balls around it reminds me of my overcoat."

WELL INFORMED

"That new nurse of ours must be a Bowery product. She speaks of the nursery as the 'nolery.'"
"Well, I rather think that's the way it should be pronounced."

NOT THAT KIND OF A BIRD

An old dame at a railway station asked a porter where she could get her ticket. The man pointed in the direction of the ticket-office.

"You can get it there," he said, "through the pigeon-hole."

"Get away with you, idiot!" she exclaimed. "How can I get through that little hole? I ain't no pigeon!"

When a politician speaks of "The Masses," he oftentimes means "Them Asses."

It is a very good thing to "Be Game," but not the other fellow's.

Perhaps the average woman does walk two miles while preparing dinner, but we know a good many who only walk two blocks to a delicatessen store.

The cub reporter who wrote, "The bride wore a pink hat and slippers to match," left town at the request of a woman.

When a fellow can watch his best girl wrestle a dish of spaghetti, and still think she is a Goddess, he's in love.

A certain man always carried "The Spell of the Yukon" into the restaurant with him; said he liked a little "service" when he ate out.

We often wondered who first put it into the head of a barber that he ought to entertain his customers with conversation?

Probably the reason there is always room at the top, is because most people go to sleep when they get there and fall off.

A SAFE RISK

First Undergrad: "What shall we do?"
Second Undergrad: "I'll spin a coin. If it's heads we go to the movies; tails we go to the dance, and if it stands on edge we'll study."

Here is another way to look at it. If that stuff the bootleggers sell as liquor was any good, do you think they would sell it.

It is unnecessary to tell a girl that you are in love with her. She is generally aware of the fact long before you are.

SERIOUS

"What's the charge, officer?"
"Vagrancy, your honor. He was loafing around a street corner."
"Ah, impersonating an officer."

BAD CASE

"Half a dozen doctors have given Mabel up!"
"Really? What is the matter with her?"
"She simply wouldn't pay their bills."
